Michael,

SMPG agrees to the below terms assuming that you and your agree that the continuing of the hearing to allow for Mr. Broussard to apply with planning and zoning it also not an admission or admissible should more ligation occur and it is not valid.

Also, no burning of vegetation will take place on the premises pending the application process.

Please advise.

Subject: SMPG v. Billy Broussard

Lee,

I just gave you a call. I spoke with Billy and we are able to come to an agreement. To confirm our telephone conversation:

- The parties will agree to continue the hearing on the preliminary injunction. You will advise the Court the preliminary injunction has been continued.
- St. Martin Parish Government will arrange a meeting tomorrow, September 14, 2021, at 1:00 with Calder Hebert (and any other appropriate authority for planning and zoning) for Billy Broussard to seek a zoning variance for the property. This meeting is an effort at compromise. It is not considered an admission of guilt or wrongdoing. It is not an admission that Billy Broussard or any of his legal entities are violating any purported zoning ordinances.
- St. Martin Parish Government will allow the temporary restraining order to expire and will not seek to enjoin or interfere with Billy Broussard's (or any of his legal entities) use of the property while he seeks a variance.
- St. Martin Parish Government will dismiss the petition with prejudice if an acceptable variance is granted.

Please confirm.

Thanks.

Michael Adley
